SIGNINGS CALENDAR

New location for signings! Unless otherwise noted signings will be held in the Mortgage West Gallery in the Plum Building, 1705 S. Pearl Street, Denver, CO 80210 (1 blk. south of old Murder By the Book location)

Wed., August 15, 2012- 6:00pm Stephen White - Line of Fire

In Stephen White's latest entry in his best-selling series, Alan Gregory has just started to feel that the upheaval in his life is past, when his biggest fear – the exposure of a dangerous secret- has become a serious threat. It all goes back to his and Sam Purdy's involvement in a woman's suicide, and their hopes that the investigation into that suicide would not lead to them.

Stephen White lives in Colorado. He is a clinical psychologist and the New York Times bestselling author of eighteen previous crime novels.

Read It - Liked It

A new author for me - Elizabeth Speller - has written a great mystery entitled The Strange Fate of Kitty Easton. I also loved the most recent Andrea Camilleri book featuring Ins. Montalbano. For something a little darker, I can strongly recommend Bryan Gruley's new book, and the most recent offering by Tim Hallinan - The Fear Artist, as well as Steve Hamilton's book Die a Stranger. Also, I can recommend the new Tana French, Broken Harbor, the first book in Randy Wayne White's new series, entitled Gone, and the newest book by P.J. Tracy, Off the Grid.

What's been happening? In the showing-my-age category I sadly note something everyone has no doubt heard – the deaths of two favorite actors from my childhood, Andy Griffith and Ernest Borgnine. Their classic shows Andy of Mayberry and McHale's Navy livened up family evenings for a long time. I was lucky to stumble upon a rerun of the McHale's Navy movie on network TV the other day and it was just as goofy and entertaining as I remembered. Happily my 12-year-old daughter was laughing right along with me. (This does not always happen when I watch things I used to love...)

On a lighter note -this is the 50th anniversary of the release of the first James Bond film, Dr. No.

Sad News: This month we lost TWO more mystery bookstores – Partners In Crime in Greenwich Village is closing on Sept. 20th and Mysteries to Die for in Thousand Oaks, California closed its doors on July 28th after 19 years in business. Greatest sympathy goes to everyone affected by these closings, we know from personal experience how difficult this is for everyone...
